Welcome all the first education of the CORE Education Trust Careers Newsletter.

We wanted to take the opportunity of introducing ourselves to parents. We are Dee Long and Karen Barlow, and we are the CORE Education Trust's new Careers Coordinators. Our roles are to work across all the schools in our Trust, supporting and guiding your children along the pathway of careers and ensuring they have the best quality impartial advice to allow them to make positive and rewarding decisions Post 16.

Parents are welcome to contact us at any time, and from January 2023, we will be hosting a weekly drop-in careers clinic in school for all parents to attend. To make an appointment, please email us on the addresses below.

We are in schools on the following days.

We are currently working hard to provide students across all year groups with more information about careers and post-16 options, but we need your help!

If you or someone you know works for an organisation that offers apprenticeships and would be willing to deliver an assembly to approximately 185 students for 25 minutes at beginning of the school day 8:35-9:00am, we would love to hear from you/them on our email address above.

The CORE Careers Team are thrilled to let Parents know about our new collaboration with the team from The Inspirational Learning Group (TILG) | From January 2023, every student from all four CORE schools is now able to access this AMAZING programme of Careers and Employability resources online at school and at home. We believe Launch Your Career will become an integral part of the overall careers programme at CORE and will help shape the future of each of our students. Please encourage your child to use as much as possible, thank you
